

Donate Books to Support the Tibet Charity Library

Tibet Charity has been providing English language classes to the new comers from Tibet so that they can communicate better with the world outside occupied Tibet. We seek the help of the volunteers from various parts of the world to teach these students. But we face difficulty in procuring books. So any assistance in providing us with books will be greatly appreciated. We run a small library where new comers from Tibet can come and read books to improve their English. More books will give more choices to these students. We invite you to donate to our non-profit organization.
