Introduction: He reached India in 2007 when he was admitted Tibetan Transit School run by Central Tibetan Administration for the new comers from Tibet. He stayed at the school for four years after studying Tibetan and English.

After graduating from the school, he lived in Mcleodganj as he found it impossible to get a job with the certificate he received from the Transit school.

He spent his time studying Buddhist philosophy and Chinese but again he felt that it was not possible to earn a living unless he gets some kind of formal certificate from a recognized Institute.

He came to India with two goals – to get blessings from His Holiness and to go to school as there was no school where he could go to in his hometown. But when he reached here he was too old to get admission in a normal school.

It was then that she learnt about Tibet Charity Open Education School. He has joined Tibet Charity Open Basic Education School in class III and now has just completed class X. He intends to do class XII and thereafter hopes to do further studies.

He has been doing petty business to make a living but having to spend the whole day in the school leaves him with very little time to earn any money for himself because of which he has to miss class quite often.
